Dr. Matt Heinz Announces Campaign for State Legislature

TUCSON, Ariz. -Tucson physician Matt Heinz has officially filed to establish his candidacy for the Arizona House of Representatives in District 29.

Heinz is a practicing internist at Tucson Medical Center and is active in local and statewide efforts to improve the health care system. He currently serves as treasurer for Healthy Arizona, a committee dedicated to expanding medical services to uninsured children and adults in Arizona.

Heinz completed his internal medicine residency training at the University of Arizona during which he worked for three years in the Southern Arizona VA Health Care System.

"I will bring new vision and a fresh perspective to the Arizona State Legislature," Heinz said. "As a physician working on the front lines of Tucson medical care, I have seen first-hand that the health of our community relies on more than great medical services.

"A healthy Arizona means safe, clean neighborhoods where we can raise our children and provide for our families. A healthy Arizona means thriving businesses and industry to bolster our economy. And a healthy Arizona means strong schools where we will educate the citizens of the next generation."

"As a doctor, I took an oath to advocate for my patients' health and welfare above all. As a State Representative from District 29, I will advocate for a healthier Arizona."

Heinz is joined in his fight for a healthier Arizona by campaign co-chairs George Miller, former Tucson mayor, and Laura Elías de la Torre, El Pueblo Health Center family physician.
